As Lockdown continues, there is no doubt that the well-beings of both children and adults, is being affected. This week is Well-being Week and in addition to activities in class and home learning, members of staff have pulled out the stops to give children something special.

Two hampers filled with fun things for our children are sitting in the school foyer. We are giving children who are not able to come to school a chance to choose something first and then next week children attending school will be able to pick out a treat.

Huge thanks must go to Miss Ractliffe and Mrs Senekal who worked together to organise Well-being Week activities and the hampers. To show our appreciation to the PTA and businesses who have donated to the hampers we have asked the Dursley Gazette to run an article which you can see through the following link:

WELL-BEING AND HOME LEARNING

At this difficult time we recognise the increasing strain that parents and carers are taking by having their children at home. School and home are two very different environments and it is quite natural that children will struggle at times to focus on home learning. If this happens, please do something else! Go for a walk, read a book, play a game, make a cake.

It is gratifying for teachers when children have been able to do some of the learning prepared, but every one of them would agree that the well-being of everyone in the family home is more important during lockdown.

REMINDERS

- Just a reminder that this term ends next Friday 12th February and the new term will start on Tuesday 23rd February (as Monday 22nd will be an inset day). Teachers will prepare learning packs ready to be collected for Friday 12th but this work is intended to be for the first week back, not for the half term week.

- Don't forget that Cam Hopton's amazing PTA run a Facebook page which is usually full of interesting posts and reminders and is a great way to stay connected whilst we are all feeling a bit isolated. If you're not already in the group do take a look.
